A new state-of-the-art dental practice, located just off the Lisburn Road in Belfast, has opened its doors promising concierge class dentistry in boutique luxury surroundings. Spearheaded by Clinical Director, Dr David Nelson, Cranmore was officially opened at the end of January by the eminent cosmetic dentist Dr Christopher Orr. Previously situated on the Lisburn Road, David bought a three-storey period building on nearby Windsor Avenue in order to relocate and set about transforming the premises inside and out. The restoration project took a year to complete and combines many of original features with some distinct modern touches such as a bespoke glass partition and door separating the reception and waiting areas, marble flooring, flat-screen televisions, iPod docking stations in the surgeries and Wi-Fi access throughout.

With six surgeries, including a designated hygiene suite, the practice is equipped with state of the art technology, combined with using the highest quality dental materials and award winning dental laboratories to ensure the best results.

At Cranmore the patient journey combined with delivering excellence in dentistry is the key focus. The highly skilled dental team offers a full range of treatments including dental implants, smile makeovers, Inman Aligner, Zoom Advanced Power tooth whitening and hygiene. Dr Nelson and Dr Ken Nicholson were the first dentists in Northern Ireland to obtain Masters Degrees in Dental Implantology. They have a wealth of experience in all aspects of dental implants and regularly receive referrals from other dentists in relation to dental implant treatment. Reflecting this commitment to continuing education, Cranmore has been approved as a clinical training centre for the University of Central Lancashire Institute of Postgraduate Dental Education Masters Programme in Implant Dentistry, with Dr Nelson as Lead Clinical Supervisor and Dr Nicholson as the Academic Lead for the course.
